

SOPJSJ : Aim and Scope

The Sport and Olympic-Paralympic Studies Journal (SOPJSJ) envisions being a premier international resource for sport and Olympic-Paralympic studies at diverse levels. The journal's mission is to integrate research from various areas in [including those targeted by the Tsukuba International Academy for Sport Studies (TIAS) and under the Society for Sport and Olympic-Paralympic Studies (SSOPS)] the evolving discipline of sport studies. These include areas such as Olympic and Paralympic education, sport management, sport science and medicine, sport for development and peace, teaching, coaching and Japanese culture, and diversity and integrity in sport that have a major impact on all areas of sport. The journal will serve as a platform for academics and professionals/practitioners sharing new developments and advances in knowledge in the field of sport and Olympic-Paralympic studies. It is with great pleasure we announce the launch of this new journal (SOPJSJ) and welcome papers describing research and application of sport and Olympic-Paralympic studies research. Topics include, but are not limited to the above areas, and original research articles, case studies, brief reports, and reviews will be considered for publication.

Publication: September and March (regular issues, including special issues).

Language: English

Areas of Interest

The areas of interest are, but not limited to: 1) Olympic and Paralympic Education, 2) Sport Management, 3) Sport Science and Medicine, 4) Sport for Development and Peace, 5) Teaching, Coaching and Japanese Culture, and 6) Diversity and Integrity in Sport.

Responsibility of Author(s)

The corresponding author is responsible for the content of their article published in the journal. Care is necessary in any experiments involving human and animal subjects to protect the rights of humans and avoid cruelty to animals. Articles submitted for publication should explicitly include any description, which complies with such ethical and moral considerations.

Qualifications

Qualifications of the contributors

Any, member or non-member of the Society for Sport and Olympic-Paralympic Studies may submit a manuscript for publication to the journal.

Papers to be submitted

Submitted manuscript must not have been published previously and be written without infringing the copyrights of others. This includes obtaining copyright permission for figures, photographs or extensive quotes used in a manuscript that have been published elsewhere. Authors are also responsible for ensuring that any material that has influenced their research or writing has been properly cited and acknowledged in the text and reference list. Plagiarism will not be tolerated.

Types and Research Contents of Submitted Articles

The journal welcomes submissions of the following article types: original research articles, case studies, brief reports, reviews, and others.

Submission guidelines and details – on the website: <http://tias.tsukuba.ac.jp/>

Published by Society for Sport and Olympic-Paralympic Studies (SSOPS)

Editorial Office:

C/O TIAS Office, University of Tsukuba, 1-1-1 Tennodai, Tsukuba 305-8574, Ibaraki, Japan.

Website:

<http://tias.tsukuba.ac.jp/>